

ONLINE CORPORATE FINANCIAL CRIME TRAINING

Awareness training about financial crime risk is crucial for multinational corporations to avoid financial loss, reputational harm, legal sanctions and operational disruption.

Developed in partnership with the University of Ottawa, the Corporate Financial Crime training series is comprised of six courses each with their own digital textbook and examination. The courses are hosted on a global learning management system for quick distribution anywhere in the world. User performance is tracked through advanced analytics, providing senior management with reliable implementation statistics.

Protect your organisation from expensive compliance failures and implement the CFC series. There is no other practical training solution for financial crime within multinational corporations.
